

A CITY NOT SLEEPING:

For ten days in October, New York early music ensembles will not rest until everyone has a chance to experience their impressive artistry

"It was also a very New York moment—while the photographer was trying to get the poses right, lots of tourists snapped our picture. We'll be in photo albums all over the world." -- Martha McGaughey

By Heidi Waleson

THE NEW YORK EARLY